

Members of our team are carefully hand picked. They understand our philosophies and just how important your custom is to us. All levels from assistants up to managers regularly receive training and appraisals in all aspects of our trade.

We will spend time with you to make the right decision about your hair; we will give you advice, inspiration and ideas. We may even, in some cases have to advise you against having a particular service. Please understand that if this is the case, it is because we care and hope to develop a long term relationship with you. Short term gains are never our intention. If we do disappoint you in any way, please tell us.

Our prices are structured by status in the salon. Whatever your budget, there will be a price and skill to match your needs. You can even come along as a model on one of our training sessions.

Please help us to help you. Protect the investment you have made with us by taking the advice of your hair designer. He or she will recommend the correct home hair care programme for you. This is the next best thing to taking your hair designer home with you.

All prices subject to availability.
